SafeGuard FlexPlus seating - the best designed, easiest to maintain, and, most importantly, best performing seat available on the market.

And the SafeGuard FlexPlus is continually compliance tested to make sure it both meets and exceeds all federal safety standards. The regulation proof FlexPlus is built to last for the life of the bus.

TattleTale lets you know when SmartFrame Plus has deployed and if you need to replace your seat back.

SmartFrame Plus - How It Works

What is happening on the inside:

Other school bus seat backs today are designed to absorb the energy of passengers behind - they are not designed to absorb the energy of passengers behind AND belted passengers ahead.

SmartFrame Plus works by increasing the seat back's ability to absorb energy when passengers are belted in the seat ahead and unbelted passengers strike the seat at the same time.

- The passenger loads the seat belt.
- A frame section (shown in red) is repositioned to increase the seat back stiffness.
- The frame sections will remain permanently deformed after the crash leaving visual indication that the seat needs to be replaced.

Versatility is important for today's school bus seating. SafeGuard gives you options without sacrificing capacity.

Testing

SafeGuard tests all of its school bus seating at The Center for Advanced Product Evaluation (CAPE®) - the only crash test facility of its kind in the world.

CAPE is equipped to handle the school bus testing of all shapes and size with the largest barrier block in the world as well as a 90 degree rollover machine designed for large commercial vehicles.

CAPE tests the most common standards: FMVSS 210, 222, and 225.
